PURPOSE

This conference will attempt to provide participants with a clear picture of the drug scene at North American institutions of Higher Education.

Resource teams have been invited from the fields of Medicine, Pharmacology, Sociology, Psychology, Law, Education and Philosophy to discuss the latest in research and informed opinions on the topic. The conference will endeavour to arrive at a recommended set of alternative ways of working with the problem of student drug abuse on Canadian campuses.

The conference will deal primarily with Marijuana and hallucinogens and only secondarily with the other drugs less in vogue among students today.

OBJET

Cette conférence tentera de fournir les participants avec une représentation précise du problème des narcotiques dans les institutions post-secondaires sur ce continent.

Des équipes de recherche ont été invité des disciplines de la Médecine, de la Pharmacologie, de la Sociologie, de la Psychologie, du Droit, de l'Education et de la Philosophie avec l'objet de discuter les plus récentes recherches et jugements des experts.

Cette conférence tentera de proposer une série d'alternatives pour résoudre ce problème de l'utilisation des narcotiques sur le campus.

La conférence traitera plutôt de la marijane et des hallucinogènes et moins des autres narcotiques qui ne sont pas présentement en vogue sur les campus.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Before every session, busses will leave from directly in front of the Raphael Motel to bring the participants to the college. At the conclusion of each daily session, the busses will return the participants to the motel. The exact time of departures are listed in the schedule.

Meal tickets, issued at the outset of the conference, must be presented to the cashier of the Hingston Hall cafeteria at each meal.

There will be an information booth located at the entrance of the Guadagni Lounge to answer any questions you might have.

Two cars will be available for transportation throughout the conference.
